1. FACE OFF For those who religiously swear by Shu Uemura's cleansing oil, this limited-edition bottle may be just the ticket for your bathroom shelf. The limited edition bottle of this high-performance classic is decorated with calligraphy by the late, great, Mr Shu Uemura himself and is the skincare guru's last special-edition package design. But get on your marks as there are only 1,000 iconic bottles up for grabs in Hong Kong. AT SHU UEMURA

2. AGE LESS Bid farewell to fine lines with this miracle potion! After years of research, in particular into the effects of exogenous growth factors of ageing skin, comes doctor Yongji Chung's Bioxil range. Catch those first signs of aging and you'll stay young forever.

3. NATURAL WOMAN Preparation for a night out always begins with the skin. For the ultimate treat, try Ole Henriksen's African red tea foaming cleanser, which removes impurities without stripping essential moisture. It's strong enough to remove make up but gentle enough for sensitive skin. AT LANE CRAWFORD

4. MASK UP Every woman knows masks are an important component of maintaining beautiful skin. Apply Valmont's renewing pack for an instant beauty boost that will leave your skin radiant and luminous. Made with menthyl lactate agent, the formula stimulates, tones and energises.

Fortunately, Japanese skincare brand MTM offers the ideal solution tailored specifically for your skincare bugbears with its custom-blended range. MTM's skincare experts and spa consultants carry out a professional analysis of your skin before creating products that are unique to each individual's skin type – so now there's a solution (pun intended) for everyone. Daily skincare aside, MTM also offers a luxury spa service, available in Hong Kong, Shanghai and Beijing. For the ultimate in pampering, opt for one of its signature spa treatments, which include a refreshing Japanese sake bath, a nourishing milk and ginger bath and a rich red wine bath. AT MTM
