

Feed Your Skin a Youthful Glow

When it comes to our skin, we are usually our own worst enemy. Every day, we do things that will profoundly affect the future of our skin. UV rays, cigarette smoke, repeated facial expressions and imbalanced nutrient intake, not to mention the time spent in a perpetually sleep-deprived state, all contribute to the appearance of dull skin tone and poor skin health. However, all is not lost. A healthy and naturally glowing skin takes on a different meaning, thanks to Bioxil Innertreats as it reveals the new revolutionary secret to restore skin beauty.

Is beauty really skin deep?

Surely yes! The secret to beautiful and naturally glowing skin lies not only on what is applied on the skin but how it is nourished from within. Skin Radiance delivers nutrients to the dermis layers of the skin via body's blood supply, boosting optimal hydration and stimulating collagen production that revive skin elasticity to promote a youthful glow.

How do I know if I need Skin Radiance as part of my skin care regime?

An instant way to figure out your need to supplement your skin is by looking at your body in the mirror, especially the skin on your face. If you look in the mirror and see uneven skin tone, wrinkles, dark circles under your eyes, crow's feet, puffiness and sagging, chances are you will benefit enormously from Skin Radiance.

Formulated to nourish the deep dermal layers of the skin, Skin Radiance is composed from over 30 types of natural ingredients that work synergistically to boost radiant skin complexion.

How would Skin Radiance rejuvenate dry and flaky skin?

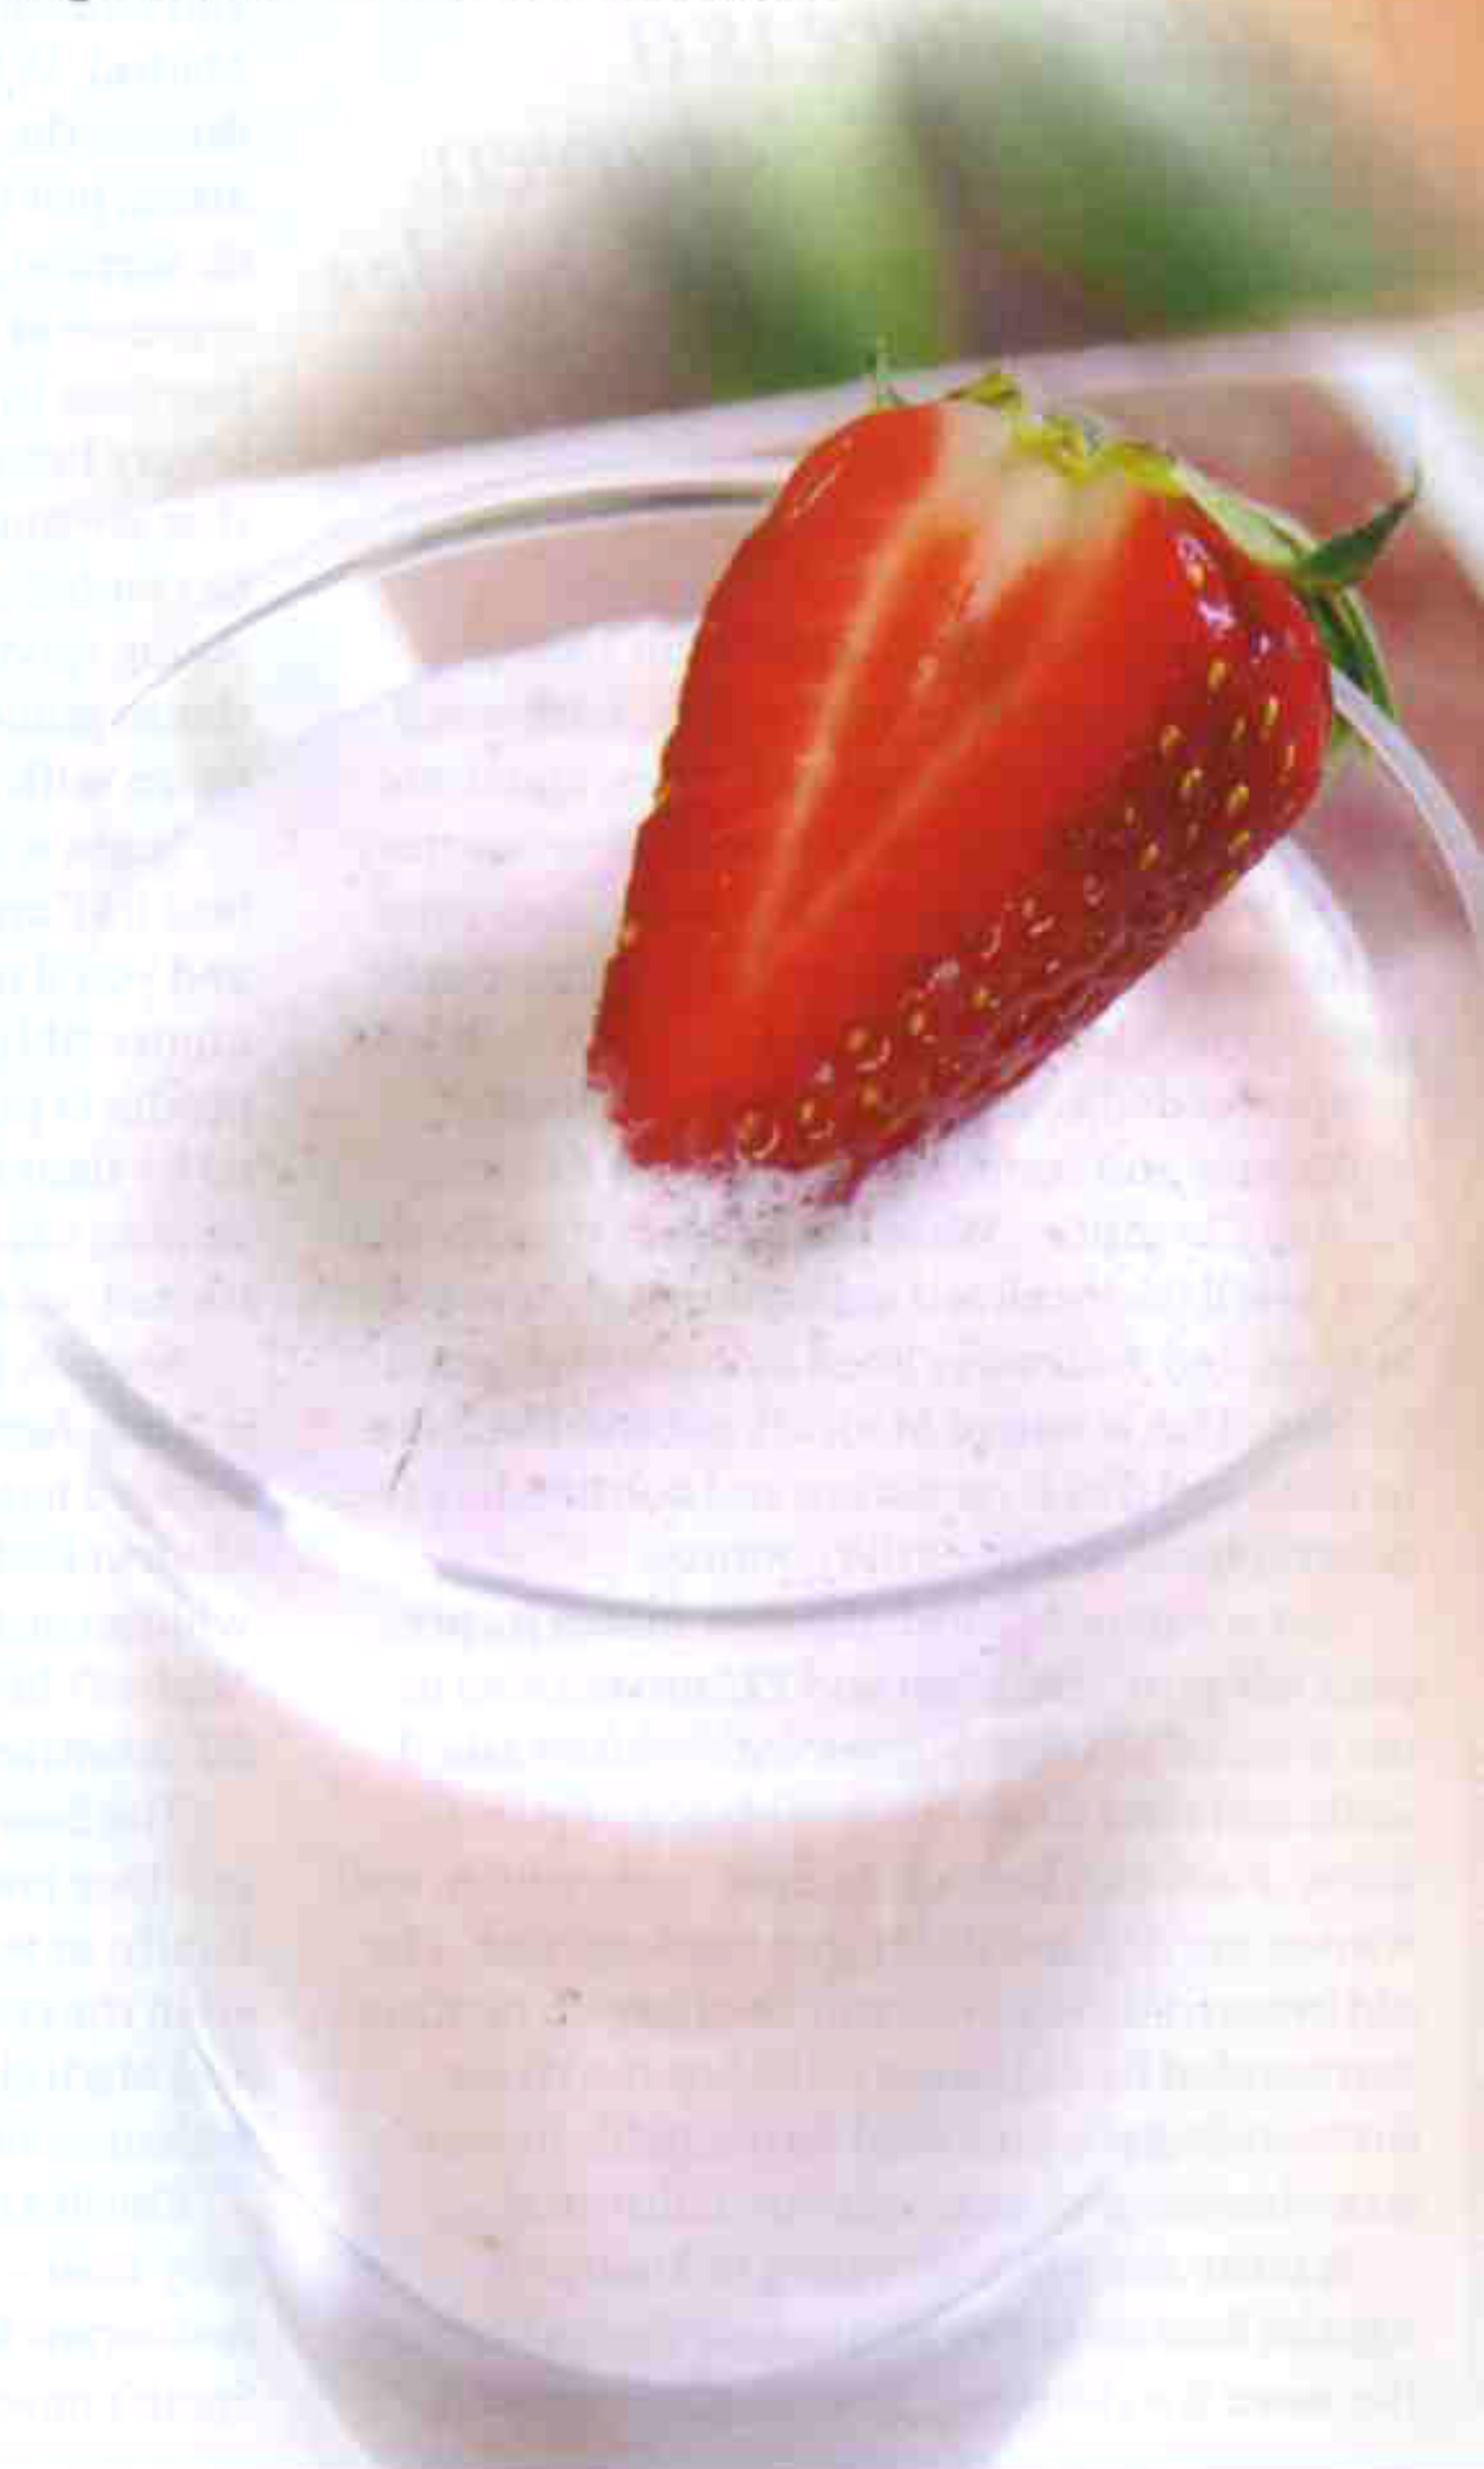

Dry skin is often accompanied by flaking and itchiness. Lines and wrinkles are more pronounced when your skin is stripped of moisture. Thus it is important to boost skin cell's production of hyaluronic acid to ensure optimal hydration and minimal water loss due to environmental aggressions. Skin Radiance does that by providing a plethora of nutrients from marine collagen, acerola, Tibetan Goji and mucopolysaccharides that helps to lock in moisture and provides long lasting hydration from the deep dermal layers of the skin. So gone are the days of dry and flaky skin.

Is Skin Radiance suitable for acne-prone skin?

Yes, the results are immense when combined with an appropriate skin care regime. Skin Radiance is enhanced with ingredients that promote anti-inflammatory effects like Echinacea and Dandelion which soothe irritations from breakouts and clogged pores while vitamin A, C, E and zinc alleviate acne wounds and scars effectively.

How soon can I observe the results after consuming Skin Radiance?

Consumers typically notice the effects of softer and more hydrated skin in 3 to 4 weeks (equivalent to one cell renewal cycle). Yet the duration may differ between individuals according to age and bodily conditions. Consult our nutritionist at 1-800-88-0908 to discover how Skin Radiance can help you nudge fresh and radiant skin to surface.
